(READING)

1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow : [6×1=6]

A little distance from the Tarnaka crossroads, you come across a quiet house called 'Needa' (refuge). Attached to it is a small school where in the afternoons, you will come across many little girls who are domestic servants, learning to read.

This is no non-formal education centre. Education is a very serious business here. The girls get to write their public exams, some of them join residential schools (after clearing the entrance exams) and some others go for higher studies.

Innovative teaching methods help these first generation learners. Field trips, discussion on current events are common features in this school.

Anand Bharti is not just about education, many people have commented that the children here are transformed into confident individuals and that the values imbibed here stay with them wherever they go.

The woman who runs the school and who has a house in 'Needa' is Janaki Iyer, a 70-year old lady.

2. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow : [9×1=9]

The magic of Bapuji's message has stolen the hearts of India's millions. Men and women and even little children, come out of their little shells and become India's soldiers of freedom. In India today we are making history, and you and I are fortunate to see this happening before our eyes and to take some part ourselves in this great drama.

If we are to be India's soldiers we have to respect India's honour, and that honour is a sacred trust ..... It is no easy matter to decide what is right and what is not. One little test, I shall ask you to apply whenever you are in doubt .....

Never do anything in secret or anything that you would wish to hide. For the desire to hide anything means that you are afraid, and fear is a bad thing and unworthy of you. Be brave and all the rest follows .....

You know that in our great Freedom Movement, under Bapuji's leadership, there is no room for secrecy or hiding. We have nothing to hide. We are not afraid of what we do or what we say. We work in the sun and work in the light and do nothing secretly ..... and if you do so, my dear you will grow up a child of the light, unafraid and serene and unruffled, whatever may happen.

May you grow up into a brave soldier in India's service.

11. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow : [6×1=6]
- During our childhood in Goa, the baker used to be our friend, companion and guide. He used to come at least twice a day. Once, when he set out in the morning on his selling round, and then again, when he returned after emptying his huge basket. The jingling thud of his bamboo woke us up from sleep and we ran to meet and greet him. Was it for the love of the loaf ? Not at all. The loaves were bought by some Paskine or Bastine, the maid-servant of the house ! What we longed for were those bread-bangles which we chose carefully. Sometimes it was sweet bread of special make.

The baker made his musical entry on the scene with the ‘jhang jhang’ sound of his specially made bamboo staff. One hand supported the basket on his head and the other banged the bamboo on the ground. He would greet the lady of the house with ‘Good Morning’ and then place his basket on the vertical bamboo. We kids would be pushed aside with a mild rebuke and the loaves would be delivered to the servant. But we would not give up. We would climb a bench or the parapet and peep into the basket, somehow. I can still recall the typical fragrance of those loaves.

Kisa Gotami had an only son and he died. In her grief she carried the dead child to all her neighbours, asking them for medicine and the people said, “She has lost her senses. The boy is dead.”

At length, Kisa Gotami met a man who replied to her request. “I cannot give thee medicine for thy child, but I know a physician who can.”

And the girl said, “Pray tell me, sir ; who is it ?” And the man replied to her request. “Go to Sakyamuni, the Buddha.”

Kisa Gotami repaired to the Buddha and cried, “Lord and Master give me the medicine that will cure my boy.”

The Buddha answered, “I want a handful of mustard-seeds”. And when the girl in her joy promised to procure it, the Buddha added, “The mustard-seeds must be taken from a house where no one has lost a child, husband, parent or friend.”

Poor Kisa Gotami now went from house to house, and the people pitied her and said, “Here is mustard-seed ; take it !” But when she asked, “Did a son or daughter, a father or mother, die in your family ?” they answered her, “Alas ! the living are few, but the dead are many.
